

THE FIREWORKS

FOR EDMONTON'S BIG FAIR

Program of the Great Display to be Put On During the Exhibition

The directors of the Exhibition Association have closed the contract with the Hand fireworks people of Hamilton, Ont., for a magnificent display to be put on here during the coming fair. The Hand people put on the fireworks here last year, which were found in every way satisfactory, and in closing the contract this year it was specially stipulated by the Directors that the same gentleman who was sent up by the company last year have charge of the display this season. Following are the programmes for the two displays, on the second and third evenings of the fair respectively:—

First Night.

Salute of Hand's Aerial Artillery, exploding with deafening report and announcing the commencement of the display.

Ascent of mammoth Montgolfier balloon with magnesium change lights, concluding with bursts of Hand's new diamond trail stars.

Ascension of Meteoric balloon bearing electric spray light, which, after reaching a high altitude, transforms into a brilliant revolving sun. Hand's latest balloon effect.

Ascension of monster illuminating balloon bearing a powerful changing light which suddenly throws out a mammoth chain of variegated stars.

Grand illumination by thirty powerful changing illumination lights—producing varied effects of the surrounding scenery.

Display of mammoth rockets with dragon flies.

Discharge of shells—cerise and crimson.

Discharge of shells with aerial contortions.

Discharge of shells with rubies, pearls and brilliants.

Cloud of silver rain interspersed with emerald and turquoise stars, produced by the simultaneous flight of a number of large shells.

Device—Motto, "Our Dominion," "The Great Northwest," or any other selected motto, artistically shown in diamond with lights and changing to blue, amber, red and green.

Discharge of rockets—red and emerald beaded snakes.

Display of rockets with callos' claws.

Display of rockets with silver trailers.

Aerial battery of tri-colored and steel spangled stars.

Display of rockets with mauve stars.

Display of rockets with lilac and blue stars.

Discharge of rockets with wheat-sheaf effects, twinkling stars and brilliant magnesium stars.

Discharge of shells, pearl spreader, topaz stars, emeralds and silver spray.

Device—double revolving golden fire wheels—Commencing with rainbow centre turned by fiery meteors changing to eight half circles with emerald, amber and blue colors. Finally transforming to a double revolving fire wheel.

Display of weeping willow rockets.

Display of searchlight rockets.

Display of diamond chain rockets.

Ascent of silver streamers.

Discharge of Hand's new novelty rockets with festoon of crown jewels.

Discharge of patriotic repeating shells.

Device—"Star of the Empire"—The central star is delineated in lines of brilliant, prismatic electric flames, from the centre of which continually fall streams of brilliant coruscations. Surrounding this magnificent object is an outer circle of electric gerbs, streams of fire from these interlace and form geometrical figures of intense brightness.

Pots d'or, pots d'argent, pots d'azur.

Flight of Spanish tourbillions.

Explosion of a nest of fiery serpents.

Device—Silver birch tree of dazzling brilliancy, and shown in mammoth proportions. Introducing Hand's new silver showers.

Discharge of snakes in chase of butterflies.

Discharge of mines of aerial contortions.

Discharge of tourbillion geysers.

Discharge of volcanic mines.

Discharge of Spanish saucissons.

Discharge of shells with ruby and silver stars.

Display of Japanese streamer rockets.

Device showing the Canadian emblem, "The Maple Leaf," in its natural colors, surrounded by a heavy frame of golden fire.

Discharge of national shell, showing red, white and blue stars.

Flight of Chinese tourbillions, forming umbrellas of fire in ascent and descent.

Discharge of shells with blue and golden stars.

Ground display—Terrace of fountains and poppies extending over one hundred and fifty feet and making a beautiful display.

Discharge of shells with chameleon stars.

Discharge of sunlight rockets.

Device—Forest of Gold.—A most elaborate creation with mammoth golden trees alternated with trees of minor size; the whole connected with a solid hedge of gold. A new device of rare and striking beauty.

Discharge of rockets, peacock plumes, emerald headed serpents, garlands of roses and Prince of Wales feathers.

Cloud of gold and sapphires produced by the simultaneous discharge of a number of large shells.

Jet of fiery jewels throwing Heavenwards a high column of fire jewels.

Magnificent special device, 20x20 feet, showing in fireworks a colossal buffalo in full career on the prairies, with prairie flowers in appropriate colors. An entirely new design for 1934.

Concluding device—Motto "Good Night," shown in variegated prismatic lights.

Grand bouquet of large colored rockets.

Second Night.

Salute of Hand's Aerial Artillery, exploding with deafening report and announcing the commencement of the display.

Ascent of Hand's pilot balloon, carrying brilliant magnesium lights.

Ascent of mammoth Montgolfier balloon with magnesium change lights, concluding with bursts of Hand's new diamond trail stars.

Ascent of mammoth balloon displaying startling effects in aerial firework jugglery.

Ascension of Meteoric balloon bearing electric spray light, which, after reaching a high altitude, transforms into a brilliant revolving sun. Hand's latest balloon effect.

Ascension of monster illuminating balloon bearing a powerful changing light, which suddenly throws out a mammoth chain of variegated stars. (All balloons, weather permitting).

Ground and aerial illumination by forty pink, green and white illumination lights producing a most vivid illumination.

Discharge of rockets with new aluminum stars, emitting millions of scintillating sparks.

Display of mammoth rockets discharging at their greatest height showers of Hand's 1934 shimmering, glittering gems. One of the latest aerial effects.

Discharge of shell with blue and golden stars.

Discharge of shell with clouds of crimson stars.

Device—The new interlocking diamond and box wheel. Introducing several new and pleasing changes, first showing cluster of diamonds in diamond white lights, gradually changing to all the colors of the rainbow and then transforming into contra revolving wheels which produce innumerable kaleidoscopic effects.

Dome shaped flight of rockets fired from two points and meeting in mid-air with ever-changing and varied effects.

Discharge of rockets with viridian stars and eagles' claws.

Discharge of Hand's new umbrella shells breaking into dense golden clouds surrounded by streams of dazzling electric fire and taking the shape of a mammoth umbrella.

Triple devices.—In the centre a mammoth golden sunrise. A huge, circular device, one hundred feet in circumference, with a revolving centre of colored lights, the whole surrounded by a corona of tongues of fire. On each side of the sunrise appears a cross of Malta.

Discharge of yellow headed snake rockets and lightning bugs.

Display of cornucopia rockets, throwing out a mammoth floral shower.

Discharge of mammoth bomb shell of Japanese spray.

Display of shell, sea-shell, pink and green.

Display of Hand's prize patriotic shells, each shell making three distinct bursts; 1st red, 2nd blue, and 3rd white.

Ground display.—Electric firework jugglery—Producing a radiant screen of electric fire and filling the air with thousands of brilliant meteors. Two hundred and fifty feet in length.

Flight of mammoth whirling umbrellas of golden fire.

Display of Mount Pelée mines, throwing forth alternately lava and bursts of spark and spray.

Discharge of mines of whirling cervises.

Fur Regulations

A Clause in the new game ordinance for the Territories provides that no fur must be shipped out of the country which grades lower than No. III. The evident purpose of the clause is to discourage and as far as the organized territories are concerned, prevent, the taking of fur out of season as this would come under the restricted grades.

C.N.R. Rates

Winnipeg, May 30.—Under a four column head "Light Let in on C. N. R. Rates" the Free Press this morning publishes a statement of General Manager Hannaford of the Northern Pacific, St. Paul, concerning Roblin's government controlled road, in which he states the Canadian Northern is working in concert with the C. P. R. and has imposed heavy freight rate increases from the south. Mr. Hannaford says the Northern Pacific is ready to co-operate in freight reductions, making them equal to those in force in Minnesota.

A Daring Accomplish

Toronto Globe:

A most startling confession about the recent attempt made by Charles E. Burke to release Charles Quackenbush from the Central Prison has been made to the detectives by the notorious jail breaker. The confession stamps Burke as one of the most daring men who ever passed through the hands of the Toronto police. That a man could steal into the Central Prison unseen at night and deposit three saws where they could be discovered by Quackenbush, seems incredible, but this is what Burke is said to have done a few nights before his arrest.

According to Quackenbush, who seems to have been kept well informed of what was going on, Burke climbed over the walls and hid the saws in a crack of the bench at which the prisoner worked. The night Burke was arrested at the wall of the prison Quackenbush's cell was searched and three saws were discovered, also a box of blacking and a bottle of glycerine. The blacking, it is understood, was used for the purpose of filling up the hole made by the file, and the glycerine for deadening the noise of the file. Quackenbush had already had the bars of his cell cut and was waiting for Burke to go his part of the work, when their plans were interfered with by the arrest.

As a result of the find of the glycerine and blacking in Quackenbush's cell, Marshall Quackenbush, father of the prisoner, was arrested by Detective Forrest, charged with aiding and abetting the escape of prisoners. The detectives say they are in a position to show that the glycerine and blacking found in the cell were purchased by Quackenbush, senior. Burke was living at the time of his capture was living at Quackenbush, senior, at 120 Shuter street, and when he was caught was wearing Quackenbush's overcoat.

It is a mystery to the police how Quackenbush, junior, when kept separate from all other prisoners and compelled to go around heavily shackled, was able to arrange with Burke for the plans for the escape. In view of his confession, Quackenbush, junior, will not likely be brought into court again for attempting to escape from custody.

FIREWORKS FOR THE EXHIBITION

AN APPEAL

The following circular letter issued by Messrs. Joseph T. Clark and Reuben Butcher, literary executors of the late James A. Tucker, B. A., formerly editor of the Toronto Saturday Night, may be of interest to graduates of the Toronto University in the Edmonton district:

"To the friends, fellow-students and fellow-craftsmen of the late lamented James Alexander Tucker the undersigned beg to present the following resolution:

"As you are no doubt aware, Mr. Tucker put forth many pieces of verse in various publications. These it was his intention to revise and issue in book form. His untimely death last December took from him the opportunity so congenial to a cultured mind, of sometimes presenting to the public the well-wrought contribution of his deepest and most artistic thought. However, before his somewhat sudden decease, he committed to the writers the task of publishing his poems. In addition to the large body of verse already printed, he left many poems of merit in manuscript. From these have been carefully selected sufficient to make a volume of about 150 pages. The poems, it is hoped, have been selected with the end of giving to his friends in a permanent form these pieces most truly representative of his thought, and those also which his editors feel will strongly support the claims of his work for general recognition of its merits by the as yet unreached large mass of appreciators of the noblest of our Canadian literature. Having sought to use the same critical self-repression which Mr. Tucker would have exercised himself, his editors trust that this will ensure the value of the book as a memorial of the bright and promising personality which was destined to make an enduring impress upon Canadian public life had it been spared. As it is, these verses will to many discerning minds be a record and proof that even a short life may have its rewards and successes.

"Briefly, then, our proposition is this: If we can secure promises from his friends to guarantee his publishers from loss, an edition of the poems will be issued in the early summer, and the profits paid over to his wife, Mrs. Etta G. Tucker, of Owen Sound. Many enquiries and much interest in the project seem to promise success. There are many grounds upon which an appeal might be used, but we simply desire it understood that both in matter and form the volume will be worth more than the money.

"If you will help, it is desirable that you do so immediately. Kindly sign the enclosed card and return by an early mail. When the book is published it will be adequately advertised and a notice sent you. Only your name is required now."

Toronto, 16th May, 1904.

Calgary Civic Affairs

From the following editorial paragraph it appears that the Albertian is not entirely satisfied with conditions as they are in Calgary:

"Calgary is without power. Calgary is without water for the most part. Calgary is not always in possession of light. Calgary can hardly hope to attract manufacturers from abroad if we can guarantee neither power, water nor light. The city can hardly be held responsible for the accident to the water supply. The pipes which have caused all the trouble were laid down before the city took over the system and the city is doing all in its power to repair the damage and to get the system in shape. But Calgary has done nothing to insure the citizens a light supply or a power supply. The city was promised a better system for both by summer time, but summer time is here and the supply is worse than at any time before and the city has done nothing either to remedy matters now or to see that there will be a better condition of affairs in the future. It is about time that the city took up the question of water and power. As far as the present council is concerned it has no assurance that we shall not always be dependent on the present method for all time."

The Japanese Disaster at Port Arthur

Scientific American: The destruction of a 15,000-ton battleship is an irreparable loss, no matter how rich and powerful be the nation that suffers. Not merely does it mean the absolute loss of property valued at from six to seven million dollars, but it leaves a gap in the defenses of the nation which, for the time being, and indeed for many years to come, must remain uncolored. Particularly is this true of that gallant little ship which has been the battleship to which the initial successes of the Japanese forces are due, and without which not a man or a gun could have been landed upon the Asiatic Main. We say this sincerely, and we commend the statement to the serious consideration of that happily limited section of Congress, which would have us believe that the day of the battleship has passed, and the era of the torpedo boat and fast cruiser has opened. A fleet without battleships would be in the position of an army without a base; particularly where the operations are of an aggressive character, and carried out hundreds of miles from a friendly port or dockyard.

When the war opened, Russia, with her fleet of seven battleships, and a numerous complement of armored and protected cruisers and destroyers, backed by the seemingly impregnable naval base of Port Arthur and Vladivostok—to say nothing of the formidable fleet that was nearing completion in European waters—seemed to hold a practically secure position. The hope of Japan lay in its fleet of six battleships, with remarkable audacity and skill she planted this squadron in front of Port Arthur, where it formed a floating base for the operation of cruisers and torpedo boats, which latter, by a swift dash at the opening of the war, so far crippled the enemy as to give Japan the command of the sea. One immediate result of the Russian reverses was the determination to dispatch the Baltic squadron for the relief of Port Arthur; and from the moment that this was determined upon, became doubly imperative upon the Japanese admirals to maintain the blockade of Port Arthur and hold the whole Russian fleet with the least possible amount of risk to their battleship squadron, already too small for the gigantic task that confronted it during the coming months, and possibly years, of the war. It has been a matter of surprise that Admiral Togo should have conducted his various operations with so little loss in ships and men; particularly in view of the fact that Port Arthur is known to contain a numerous torpedo-boat fleet, and that the mining of the waters has been carried out with a recklessness that prompts to be as dangerous to friend as to foe. At last the inevitable has happened, and one of the finest of Togo's battleships, the "Hatsuse," has been sunk by one or more of the floating mines with which the waters of the Liao Tung peninsula are strewn. So suddenly did this great ship go down that only 150 out of her crew of 750 were saved. On the same day, within a few hours of this disaster the Japanese cruiser "Kasuga," in a deep fog off Port Arthur, rammed the cruiser "Yoshino," the latter sinking rapidly that only 90 out of her crew of 300 men were saved. The loss of the cruiser was unfortunate, but it is insignificant compared with the loss of such a magnificent ship as the "Hatsuse," which shared with the "Mikasa" the distinction of being one of the largest battleships afloat in any navy. The "Yoshino" was a protected cruiser of 1,150 tons displacement and 15,000 horsepower, built in England in 1892. Her speed was 23 knots, and she mounted four 6-inch guns, eight 4.7-inch guns, and twenty-two 3-pounders. Her armored deck was 4.2 inches thick and she carried five torpedo tubes. She was protected by a belt of Harvey nickel-steel, 9 inches thick amidships and 4 inches at the ends, and her deck was 4 inches thick over the battery and 18 inches on the hulls. The battery of 6-inch guns was carried in casemates protected by 6 inches of armor. She was practically a sister ship to the "Sakuma." With a maximum supply of 1,500 tons of coal and a trial speed of over 19 knots, the "Hatsuse" was about as fine a sample of modern battleship construction as could be found.

The effect of this double loss will be to revive the spirits of the Port Arthur garrison and fleet, and instill new life into the project of sending the European fleet to the Far East. This, if the Black Sea ships be included, may easily consist of eight first-class battleships, and these with the three that are supposed to be still intact at Port Arthur, would give a preponderance, supposing Port Arthur can hold out for another few months, that must be giving the Japanese government most anxious concern.

WAS FOR LARGE SUBSIDY

The Senate Will Not Take Up the G.T.P. Bill Until Next Week. Budget on Tuesday

Bulletin Special Dispatch.

Ottawa, June 1.—Today the opposition made it further evident that Fielding last week in making public the Grand Trunk's first demand for cash and land equal to fifty-three millions for merely a road starting at North Bay, had damaged the Conservative proposal. Barker, Hamilton, raised a debate on the subject which took up most of the afternoon. Laurier repeated the statement he made last week that the letter was confidential. The petition was not acted upon by the government and until the opposition misrepresented the nature of the Grand Trunk's first proposal, he did not think it necessary to ask permission to make the document public.

A number of miners' bills were advanced a stage.

On a motion to go into Committee of Supply tonight, Blain, Conservative of Peel, took up the question of tariff for the protection of market gardeners, and there ensued two hours debate, lasting until after midnight, on the old lines. Blain's amendment was lost on a division in the House with a government majority of 35.

The budget speech will be delivered next Tuesday.

The Senate met today, but will not take up the Grand Trunk Pacific Bill until next week.

The Tangier Bandits Must be Held Accountable if the Captive is Killed

Washington, June 2.—At the President's suggestion the administration emphasizes today that threat that if Fordicaris is killed the United States, regardless of any other power, will demand and if necessary accomplish by its own action, that the rascal and his brigands be captured and put to death.

This threat was first sent to Raiuzzi on Monday through Consul General at Tangier, and the French Foreign Minister was informed of the action. Today similar communications were sent to Sultan Abdul Aziz and the brigand chief Raiuzzi through Ambassador Choate, who presented it to the British Foreign Office for transmission to Morocco.

SUPREME COURT

In the case of Neil vs. Gainer yesterday judgment was given for the plaintiff for $40. F. C. Jamieson appeared for the plaintiff and J. R. Boyle for the defendant.

As none of the other cases were ready for proceeding with court adjourned until this morning when the case of Grieron vs. Johnston for breach of contract came up.

FOOTBALL MATCH

Edmonton and Strathcona play football on the Strathcona grounds tomorrow evening. The game is called for 7.30. This will be the third game between the teams this season and so far neither team has scored. They met first on Arbor Day in Strathcona and the following week on the Hudson Bay grounds here, each game resulting in no scores. Tomorrow's game will probably be hard and interesting.

WHITE WHALE LAKE

Bulletin Correspondence.

At an election held at the residence of W. C. Dunn recently it was voted to form a school district in this vicinity and Messrs. H. White, J. B. Johnson and W. C. Dunn were elected trustees. It is expected that the coming fall will see the youngsters in this neighborhood attending school.

A recent trip to Edmonton discloses the fact that vegetation is farther advanced in this vicinity than at any point between here and Edmonton. Grass is furnishing fine pasturage for stock. Pea vine measures twenty-one inches and the red top fifteen and one-half. Some of the new breaking shows a fine sandy loam soil which appears to be good enough for anyone. This is destined to be one of the best sections of the country and is rapidly being taken up.

May 28th was the date set for the marriage of two of our popular young people, Miss Ethel Woollard and Mr. George Haight, which will occur at Edmonton. Mr. Haight has rented a farm on the Base Line road west of Edmonton near Mr. Suder's. Next year they expect to occupy their homestead there. They have the hearty good wishes of the neighborhood.

A. McCorister has made some decided improvements in his place this spring. In fact a general change for the better is noticed throughout the entire district.

Charles and James Rush, who recently moved to homesteads down near the river, have cancelled their entries there and returned to this district. They will take up homesteads here and incidentally do a store business. They will be located on the lake shore on property recently purchased by Mr. Lessard.

Rev. Mr. McDougall, head of the missionary work in this district for the Methodist church, visited Rev. Mr. Hopkins last week and conducted services at the residence of Mrs. Woollard on Sunday afternoon. Rev. Hopkins will go to Winnipeg soon to attend conference.

Mr. Bennett, of Spruce Grove, was a guest of Mr. H. White's over Sunday. Mr. White will remain here for a time to complete his new buildings before returning to his sawmill business.

C. H. Dunn and H. White, road councillors, from the south towns of the district, go to St. Anne's today to attend a meeting of the board of councillors.

CONJURING CREEK

Bulletin Correspondence.

Splendid showers, grain is coming fine.

Seeding is a thing of the past and country roads are drying up rapidly. Messrs. Swartz and F. Clifford paid a visit to Conjuring Lake last week, five miles south of Conjuring Creek P. O., for a couple of days' fishing, but only caught about fourteen pike, it being about three weeks too early for them to bite. Last year Mr. Youmans and Dr. Wood spent a couple of days there and caught 195 and others caught very large numbers. This is a grand piece of lake, about six miles long by one-half a mile wide and abounds with fish, the best time for fishing being from the middle of June. The lake is a splendid summer resort. There is talk of Mr. O. Bush erecting buildings for picnickers there.

There will be no service next Sunday at Humble School House.

Mr. Howard has completed his new house and it has a splendid appearance being frame and plastered inside.

Conjuring Creek football team played at Ledue on Saturday the game resulting 1 to 0 in favor of Ledue. It was a good game throughout.

Conjuring Creek, May 31st.

The Value of a Doctor

The Calgary Herald credits the following peculiar paragraph to the Wetaskiwin Times, which appears to value one doctor as equivalent to several hundred ordinary mortals in the matter of railway construction:

"Dr. Mackid, surgeon of the western division of the C. P. R., Calgary, accompanied by Dr. F. Ewing, chief surgeon for Foley Brothers & Larson, also Jaa. McDonald, chief engineer for both Wetaskiwin and Lacombe branches, arrived last week to install Dr. Baldwin as surgeon for both points. This is one of the most important appointments in the North West Territories, as it necessitates the employment of from 300 to 1,000 men. Dr. Baldwin, who has been one of our oldest and most respected citizens, is to be congratulated, and his many friends will be pleased to hear of his Klondike strike."

Train on time.
—The town and the fire brigade play football on the market square to-night.
—Men are engaged building a coo at the old ferry landing below the bridge.
—E. J. Taylor is erecting a house at the corner of Victoria avenue and Seventh street.
—A new sidewalk is being built from the station to the Exhibition grounds on Second street.
—The Choral Society practices to-night in Sandison Hall at 8 o'clock sharp. A full attendance is requested.
—Wetaskwin defeated Strathcona last evening at baseball on the Strathcona grounds by a score of 12 to 7.
—The buildings are being removed from the property recently purchased by Revillon Freres on Second street.
—A new sidewalk is being built along the south side of 4th street east from Namayo avenue to Boundary avenue.
—W. J. Johnston, late of the Alberta Transfer Company, has purchased J. Robertson's express business. He is now prepared to do all work in this line.
—J. Fetherston of Fort Saskatchewan, came up yesterday to take down a new plan for his sawmill there. The mill began running for the season on Tuesday.
—Mr. F. T. Fisher has severed his connection with the Hudson's Bay Co. Mr. Goldsmith, who succeeds him as manager here, came in a few days since from Portage and took charge yesterday.
—Interviewed in Ottawa Mr. Hays of the G.T.P. said that the work was being prosecuted in the same way as if the bill had got the royal assent. The company was making no time and the work was turning out very satisfactorily.
—The Public School classes of Miss McKee and Mr. Munro, plunked at Groat's after school yesterday. Baseball, running and tug-of-war were some of the sports. The tug-of-war was the most amusing from the fact that the boys pulled against the girls and the girls won.
—The connection with the water main in front of the Grand Central Hotel broke last evening and threatened to make the trouble. The water was coming up through the ground. A gang of men were put to work during the evening excavating and the breakage was repaired.
—Free Press: MacKenzie and Mann sent a special construction train to Wood to-day. It consisted of about 300 graders and ballast, most of whom were from Calgary. The train pulled out over the C.P.R. as the C.N.R. line is still blocked at Portage. The blockade has now been in effect about two months, all trains being held out by way of the C.P.R.
—Calgary Herald: Last night the firm of Shaver & Graham was called upon to take charge of the body of Mr. Stewart, who was drowned on the 6th instant, about twenty-five miles east of Calgary, while crossing the Bow river on horseback. The body was recovered yesterday, the 6th, by Mr. Hamilton, about thirty-two miles east of Calgary. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Day-leisure.
—Free Press: Edmund Parrish, father of Mr. W. L. Parrish of the well known grain firm of Parrish & Lindsay, died this morning in the city at the advanced age of 71 years. The late Mr. Parrish was born in York, Eng., in 1832. He came west in 1882 and took up his residence in Brandon. Early he had been living in Calgary and Strathcona. He came to Winnipeg last September to be treated for an affection of his eyes. In January a complication of disorders set in from which Mr. Parrish has been suffering greatly. Three weeks ago an operation was deemed necessary in order to save his life, but no relief was found in this case. Mr. Parrish was well known throughout the Canadian west. Besides the only son, Mr. W. L. Parrish, five daughters survive him. Mrs. W. H. Hamilton, Uxbridge; Mrs. A. L. Cameron, Calgary; Mrs. (Dr.) Mason, Nanaimo, B.C.; Mrs. J. C. Dowsett, Edmonton; and Mrs. F. G. Lapointe, Seattle, Wash. Mr. Parrish was pre-deceased by his wife 5 years. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at St. John's cemetery.

Drowned at Lethbridge

A sad drowning occurred at Lethbridge on Thursday morning. Paul Meibach, a handsome young man of nineteen recently from Great Falls, Montana, together with nine companions, went to bathe in one of the lakes made by waste water from the irrigation canal adjacent to the town. After disrobing several of them rowed to where the water was fifteen feet deep, when Meibach, who was in the bow, took a headfirst dive. Coming to the surface his companions noticed something wrong, for although a good swimmer and in close proximity to the boat he threw up his hands and sank immediately, not rising again.
Desperate efforts were made to rescue him, but over an hour elapsed before he was brought to the surface. However, vigorous rubbing and artificial respiration employed for over half an hour produced no pulse, and a promising career was terminated, death being evidently due to heart failure, as the water was very cold. With a singular precision of his fate Meibach stated when being rowed out that he felt as if he was going to his death. The coroner decided not to hold an inquest, owing to the purely accidental nature of the drowning.
